NYU Dermatopathology Fellowship Application & Selection Protocol

This is an equal-opportunity program open to all applicants who are board-eligible or board-certified by the American Board of Dermatology or the American Board of Pathology.

Applicants are advised to have all documents submitted 19 months in advance of the fellowship start date. The applications are reviewed by the Director and associates of the Dermatopathology Section, both individually and as a group. Selections are made based on the applicant's academic and performance track record, curriculum vitae, research experience, letters of recommendation, medical school transcript and Dean's recommendation. Approximately four to six of the best applicants are selected for interviews. Two interview dates are determined. The selected applicants are then contacted and scheduled for the interviews.

On the interview day, applicants are interviewed individually by the Director and associates of the Dermatopathology Section, the Chair of the Department of Dermatology, and the Medical Director of the Dermatology Department. The interviewers are provided with a copy of the applicant's curriculum vitae. They then evaluate each applicant based on his/her credentials and interview performance. After the written evaluations have been received by the Director of Dermatopathology, the faculty of the Dermatopathology Section meet to rank the candidates. The selected applicants are then contacted by the Director and offered the fellowship position. If the applicant accepts, a letter of intent is sent to the applicant for signature. A copy of the signed acceptance letter is then forwarded to the Chairman of the Department of Dermatology and the Administrator of the Department of Dermatology and the Postgraduate School of Medicine administrative office.
