Fall 2002
Volume 2/Number 3

Greetings to All!

We have kicked off the new academic year with some exciting activities. The opportunity to meet so many fellow alumni and sharing these experiences will surely be one of the highlights of my role as President of the Alumni Association this year. On October 3rd, Ben Chu '78, President of the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation, helped The Bellevue Association and the Bellevue Hospital Center dedicate the "Saul J. Farber, M.D. Auditorium." To be completed by 2004, this facility will be housed in their new Ambulatory Care Facility on First Avenue between 27th and 28th Streets. Other notables who came to honor Saul Farber '42 for his lifetime achievements in medicine and his service to New York City included: Dr. Jeremiah Barondess, President of the New York Academy of Medicine; Dr. Robert M. Glickman, our Dean and CEO of the NYU Hospitals Center; Dr. Herbert Pardes, President and CEO of the New York Presbyterian Hospital; and, The Honorable Michael R. Bloomberg, Mayor of the City of New York, who proclaimed October 3rd "Saul J. Farber Day".

Elayne K. Mustalish '66

The following weekend we kicked off the 2002-2003 regional alumni tour on Sunday, October 6th, and visited with Washington D.C. alumni. Bruce Pfeiffer '70, arranged a lively group at the Four Seasons Hotel to honor Mel Worth '54 for his outstanding achievement as an alumnus. Our next stop along the east coast was Long Island. There we joined Simon Fink '68 who chaired the first brunch in this area on Sunday, October 27th at The Milleridge Inn in Jericho. The most senior alumnus present was Constantino Zaino '31.

On October 31st, Dean Robert Glickman was joined by John Sexton, President of New York University; Kenneth G. Langone, Chairman of the NYU School of Medicine's

Foundation Board of Trustees; and, Martin Lipton, Esq., Chairman of the Board of Trustees of NYU at the groundbreaking ceremony for a 13-story biomedical research center facing the East River next to the FDR Drive. This state-of-the-art facility will contain 230,000 square feet of space, including 110,000 square feet for laboratories. Describing the "Joan and Joel Smilow Research Center" as the centerpiece of the School's efforts to maintain its leadership in biomedical research, Dr. Glickman said "This new research center will allow NYU scientists to conduct research that will expand our understanding of cancer, cardiac and vascular diseases, infectious diseases, and other fields of science. Our goal is to take the results of this research and influence the way physicians treat their patients."

In November, we traveled west to continue the celebration of our alumni. The first stop was San Francisco on November 9th for the 4th Annual Northern California Alumni Lunch. Michael Goldfield '66 greeted a packed house at the Westin St. Francis Hotel, where Stephen Golden '70 was honored. Then we traveled south for the 19th Annual Southern California Alumni Brunch the next day. Robert Davidson '66 chaired this well-attended brunch where we saluted Sidney Reiff '42 for his accomplishments.

We were also pleased to see so many School of Medicine alumni at the regional receptions being hosted by New York University in Short Hills, NJ; Old Greenwich, CT; and Garden City, NY, to introduce John Sexton, the dynamic new President of NYU. He'll be traveling around the country this year to share his inspirational vision with as many of us as possible. The dates and locations of these events can be found in the calendar contained in this issue, or on our website.

On November 21st, the dance floor of The Sky Club was filled with dancing feet of all ages when we gathered for the Alumni Awards Gala. Tony Mustalish '66, Chair of the Samuel D. Leidesdorf Associates (and my one and only), was pleased to salute Ike Herschkopf '75 and Herb Goldfarb '60, Chair of the Jerome S. Coles Associates, led the tribute to Anthony Imperato '46 at this festive celebration.

It's not too early to start thinking about Medical Alumni Day, April 26th, which will be chaired by Steve Goldstein '75. Be sure to mark your calendars and especially any alumni celebrating a quinquennial anniversary: 1943M, 1943D, 1948, 1953, 1958, 1963, 1968, 1973, 1978, 1983, 1988, 1993, and 1998. Even if it is not your anniversary, we look forward to welcoming you at the School and at our Alumni Reunion at The Ritz-Carlton New York, Battery Park. Call the Office of Alumni Relations (212) 263-5390 for additional information.

I would like to offer a special "Thank You" to those generous alumni who signed up to participate in our Hospitality Program (see page X). Offering to house our visiting fourth year students on their residency interviews tangibly demonstrates our ability to welcome these newest members into our ranks.

Please accept our very best wishes for you and your family to enjoy a happy and healthy holiday season and New Year. 2003, here we come!

—Elayne K. Mustalish '66
President, Alumni Association 2002-2003
